When she's not speaking, coaching, or writing, you'll likely find her barefoot on the beach, book in hand, or reminiscing about her days coaching college soccer.

LONG BIO

Anne Poirier, CSCS, CIEC

Body Image Expert • Author • Founder, The Body Joyful Revolution

Anne Poirier is a nationally recognized Body Image Expert, Certified Eating Disorder Specialist, and best-selling author of The Body Joyful: My Journey from Self-Loathing to Self-Acceptance and Not a Fat Annie. With over four decades in the health and wellness industry, she has helped thousands of individuals of all shapes, sizes, and ages reclaim their confidence, health, and self-worth through her groundbreaking non-diet Body Joyful Solution and Body Joyful Revolution Community (BJRC).

A pioneer in the Body Neutrality movement, Anne's work bridges personal experience and professional expertise. After overcoming her own battles with eating disorders, body shame, and compulsive exercise, she has dedicated her career to helping others break free from diet culture and redefine health on their own terms.

Anne's insights have been featured in major outlets including The New York Times, The Washington Post, Shape, Women's Health, HuffPost, Fortune, Livestrong, ABC, FOX, CBS, and NPR. She has appeared on more than 85 podcasts, including The Holderness Family Podcast, Conscious Living, Thriving Beyond Size, and The Eating Disorder Trap.

Her major accomplishments include publishing The Body Joyful, developing The Body Neutrality Playbook, partnering with researcher Kayla Nuss on the NoWeigh app, and serving as Director of Behavioral Health at Hilton Head Health. She also serves on the National Eating Disorders Association (NEDA) Lived Experience Task Force and leads Shaping Perspectives... A Woman's Way to Joy.

Anne's mission is to create a cultural shift toward body respect, self-acceptance, and holistic well-being, inspiring individuals to model those values for future generations and redefine what it means to feel truly at home in their bodies.
